Who We Are

The community's
FIRST AND STILL NUMBER ONE
news source

For over 30 years, the Orthodox Jewish community has turned to the Yated Ne'eman for accurate, intelligent news coverage. The Yated is more than an interesting read. It is part of the daily life of the Jewish community. It is the Jewish world's most trusted paper. We set the standard back then and today.

Before the Yated, there was no publication reaching this burgeoning market of leaders, professionals, rabbis, businessmen, titans of industry, teachers, and students. We blazed the trail and built a loyal readership who eagerly await our arrival every week.

The Yated Ne'eman is a trusted conduit to the larger Jewish community, reaching across the world to many tens of thousands of readers.

The Yated offers its readers:

- Thorough, intelligent news coverage with a clear and compelling voice
- Specialty features relevant to the time of year and current events
- Wide range of entertaining fiction to engage all ages.
- Discussion on important topics such as modern halachic concerns, chinuch, hashkafah, Torah thought, and more.
- Broad range of historical and biographical articles
- Leading columnists help readers appreciate and deal with issues of the day.
- Hard hitting editorials
- Roundtable discussions with leaders in the education, mental health field, and shadchanim.

Our Readers

Sophisticated. Articulate. Knowledgeable.

Every strata of the Jewish community, both men and women, are proud to call themselves members of the Yated Ne'eman community.

From the most respected rabbinic leadership, communal leaders, educators, scholars, top decision makers in multi-million-dollar industries, to students and housewives. There is something for everyone within the pages of the Yated.

Our Reach

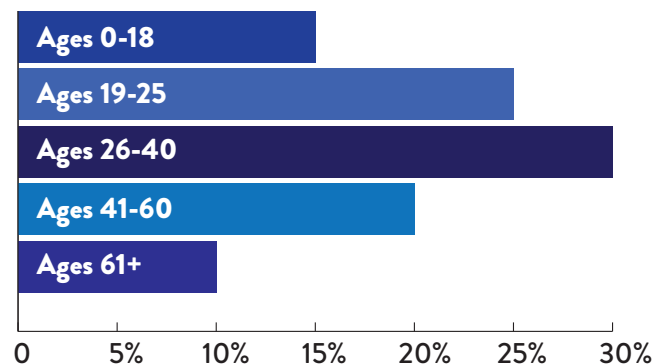

Our paper reaches over 200,000 smart, savvy readers who trust Yated over any other medium. We can be found across the US, Canada, the UK, and Israel.

History

Yated Neeman was founded in 1987 as an independent Orthodox Jewish weekly newspaper. Ever since, people have been turning to the Yated for responsible, accurate and intelligent news coverage. More than an interesting and enlightening read, the Yated is part of the daily life of the community.

We have earned international renown for providing indispensable critical insight vital in these challenging times in which we live. In a time of confusion, people turn to us to gain the understanding they require to make decisions and comprehend the goings on of the world.

Strong Leadership

The responsibility for running the Yated and maintaining the integrity of the paper's editorial mission was entrusted to Rabbi Pinchos Lipschutz.

Rabbi Lipschutz is the editor and publisher of the Yated since its inception. He has spearheaded and been involved in high-profile causes, bringing justice where there was none. He is widely respected for his acumen, sensitivity, perception and leadership.

He has authored and compiled several books in English and Hebrew. He is active in charity and community service and serves on the boards of important national and international Jewish organizations.

He is also the rabbi of Congregation Bais Bracha in Lakewood, NJ.

The most talked about headlines, people, and events every week. Widely quoted columns.

Yated has earned renown for supplying its readers with indispensable critical insight in challenging times. Readers treasure and trust the paper's incomparable analysis to provide them with the understanding they require to make decisions. Yated writers and columnists are masters of their craft, known and respected nationwide for their expertise and communication ability.

The Yated also provides entertaining and enjoyable reading material for all members of the family. The entertainment section helps relieve some of the stress inherent in our lives. Innovative self-help columns in such areas as education and interpersonal relationships keep tongues wagging long after the paper has been devoured.

When advertising your product, you want a platform that people trust and actually read, not just flip through and throw away. Yated provides that and a whole lot more.

No filler, No junk.
